indicate order of birth, died at 5:46 p.m. CST. Baby A died at 6:10 p.m. Baby D died at 9:25 p.m., and Baby C at 10 p.m.

Capt. William D. Munroe, pediatrician on duty, said at 1 a.m. that the diagnosis then for baby D "is guarded and the outlook is not good for the surviving child."

He added that he is "not very hopeful" that the baby would survive. Doctors warned from the first that the babies' chances of survival were slim.

The births, a 42-million to one medical rarity, represented the third set of quintuplets in United States medical history and only the 47th in all recorded annals. They were three months premature.

Baby A weighed 1 pound 9 ounces, B weighed 1 pound 13 ounces, C 1 pound 8 1/2 ounces, D 1 pound 13 ounces and E 1 pound 13 ounces. Baby D, the strongest, weighed several hours after her birth. The others, because of their condition, were not weighed until after their deaths.

Spokesman at Lackland Air Force Base Hospital told newsmen that everything that medical science can do, including artificial respiration, is being done to save the remaining baby.

"I have said lots of prayers," the youthful appearing, crew cut flying navigator told reporters after the first baby died. "My wife has, too, and it has done lots of good before and now."

Hannan interrupted a news conference to go to his wife's room in the third floor of the hospital when the death of the second baby was announced.

The mother, joyous at the first news of the quintuplet births, was reported doing well. Her husband described her to newsmen as a "pretty blue-eyed blonde with short hair." He said she was about 5-foot-5 in height and weighed about 120 pounds. The Hannans were childhood sweethearts at a Catholic school in Taylor, Tex., before their marriage there Sept. 7, 1953.

The couple has two sons, Robert, 5, Pat, 4. They had spent more than two years in Japan before returning to the United States Aug. 1, 1958.

Hannan told reporters he and his wife both had hoped for a girl this time, and when he walked in to his wife's hospital room after the births, she smiled at him and said, "Well, you wanted a girl and now you've got five."

He said he kissed her for each of the newly born quint.

Physicians said the babies, colic and breathing were good but that they had not had a chance to develop fully.

The world's only living quint are the Diligents of Buenos Aires, Argentina, who celebrated their 16th birthday last July 15. The Dionne quint, probably the world's most publicized, survived for 20 years, until Emilie Dionne died at 20 in 1954.

1 1/2 million pounds of thrust. That is half again as much thrust as anything the Soviet Union is known to have and would hurl bigger payloads farther into space.

But the Pentagon does not need that much push for military rockets, and has been pulling back on supporting the program.

There has been talk that Saturn support might be shifted to the civilian National Aeronautics and Space Administration, and NASA at one time made a direct bid for the whole Huntsville operation.

Strike Toll Showing Up Over Nation

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—The toll of strikes in steel and other industries is showing up in a very personal way. The total of individual incomes is falling and the total of personal debts continues to rise.

This is embarrassing to the individual whose incomes have tumbled. It's disturbing to the merchants and manufacturers who want to sell their consumer products.

And it just makes that much more troublesome the pressing problems of the U. S. Treasury now trying to make up its mind about how to handle the billions of outstanding U. S. securities about to come due.

The Commerce Department now figures that personal incomes hit their peak in June, before the steel, glass, copper, and meat industry strikes started.

A few weeks ago it had estimated that the peak was reached in July. Now it finds that its first guesses on July and August incomes were too high. And it finds incomes in September down from June about 4 1/2 billion dollars at an annual rate. The drop is largely in the wage and salary category.

The Securities and Exchange Commission puts individual debts at a record total of 153 billion dollars. It reports that this year has seen a record rise in residential mortgage debt and a near record jump in consumer debt.

Most economists insist that personal incomes, rising this year until June, are high enough to sustain the gains in, and the total of, individual debts.

The embarrassment to the Treasury is along two fronts. First, it is trying to balance a ALMA MATER EXPRESS—Twenty-three New York City area families have found a way to beat the high cost of a college education—at least partially. The parents, whose children attend Knox College in Galesburg, Ill., chipped in to buy a one-time airport bus for $2,500, then donated it to the school, making their shares tax-deductible. At $10 a one-way trip at the beginning and end of school terms and during vacations, the parents estimate they will save at least $670 over four years on each student's travel expenses. Above, William M. Churchill of Sea Cliff, N.Y., helps daughter Jacqueline stow her luggage shortly before 13 students boarded the bus to make the first 1,200-mile trip to the campus.

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Candidates for a vacant senatorial seat in Arkansas' 12th District have until midnight tonight to qualify for the position through the state. The special election to fill the seat will be held in Ouachita and Columbia counties Oct. 2. Melvin T. Chambers of Magnolia is the only candidate qualified so far. The vacancy was created by the death of Bob Dodson of Magnolia.

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The U. S. Supreme Court has refused to review a case in which the Kansas City Southern Railway Co. protested its 1957 tax assessment in Arkansas. The railroad says it will pay taxes on the $4,191,095 assessed. It had contended that the assessment should have been $1,430,953.

LITTLE ROCK (AP) Attorneys representing Negro plaintiffs in the Little Rock integration litigation asked federal district court yesterday to be allowed to see records used by school officials in assigning students to various schools. School Board attorneys said the board did not plan to contest the motion since under federal law the plaintiffs are entitled to see federal budget where the line between income and outgo is very slight at best. A falling personal income total can mean a lower tax collection than the Treasury first counted upon.

Second, falling incomes can lead to less total savings. And savings are what government and business tax when they need new funds for operations or expansion.

awful happening in my community far more horrifying than this...I see an awful harvest being reaped in the lives of children and youths as they hate.

"For within the past few days I have heard groups of children and youths saying loudly 'I hate niggers. I hate niggers.' Something within me caused me to grow faint... they were good children from good homes. In fact I know most of them have been brought up in Sunday schools and their parents are members of some church..."

Martin said the bulletin was distributed only within his church to members of his congregation.

In its reply, distributed along with Martin's statement at a meeting last night, the Dollarway Citizens Council said in part:

"Let every vote-grabbing politician, every lying ladder-climbing preacher know that... all the internal trouble in this country is caused by their asinine attempt to mix and mongrelize the races... They are not promoters of peace but are the true rabble rousers of our day."

"They are not law abiding but are the real anarchists of our time..."

"People who are fooled, deceived, by this crowd are not acting very wise. May it never be said of you."

The council also issued a statement Martin had enrolled his two children in the Altheimer School when it appeared that the Dollarway School would be integrated.

Martin today said his children did attend the school at Altheimer for a few days because it wasn't certain at the time when Dollarway would open.

He said the children now are in the Dollarway School and will remain there regardless of whether it is integrated or not.

Realtors Elect Pine Bluff Man

PINE BLUFF, Ark. (AP)—A Methodist minister in the Dollarway area has accused racial extremists "of sowing the seed that will open the floodgates of hate for years to come."

The Dollarway Citizens Council last night distributed copies of the statement by the Rev. Carlos Martin and a council reply, whose author was not identified.

The reply called Martin "an outlaw" because it said state laws require segregation.

And it said "internal trouble in this country" grows out of an "asinine attempt to mix and mongrelize the races."

The mimeographed exchange took place at the Dollarway School board prepared to meet tonight to pass on the applications of three Negro pupils for transfers to the all white Dollarway School.

Martin, who is pastor of St. Luke's Methodist Church near the school, wrote in his church bulletin that "as these extremists of the Citizens Council and others, along with political leaders, incite with inflammatory words, they are sowing the seed that will open the floodgates of hate for years to come..."

"The greatest tragedy of all is not closed schools. I see something in the records."

MONTICELLO, Ark. (AP)—Rep. W. F. Norrell (D-Ark.) said yesterday he has no plans to retire from his political career. His announcement came amid speculation from Washington that Norrell would give up his House seat and not run for re-election in 1962 if Arkansas lost two congressional seats in the 1960 census.

JONESBORO, Ark. (AP)—Fire destroyed the Schuplown Gin Co. near here yesterday. The gin building, seedhouse and 30 bales of cotton were burned. Owners estimated the damage at $100,000. The fire began with a spark from one of the engines in the gin's engine room.

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—M-Sgt. August D. Cook, 41 of Fresno Calif., died yesterday of a gunshot wound in the head. Little Rock Air Force Base officials said he apparently shot himself accidentally while cleaning a .22 caliber pistol at his home on the base. He died several hours later.

MOON & COMEDY

Bing, Frank, Dean Put on Pleasant Show

By FRED DANZIG
United Press International

NEW YORK (UPI)—The gas-house gang of show business, Frank Sinatra, Bing Crosby and Dean Martin, floated through an entertaining hour of songs, dances and their special brand of "way out" utterances on ABC-TV Monday night.

It was very easy to take. Working in front of proper, dignified and sedate sets, the trio frolicked in a carefully rehearsed fashion and displayed huge quantities of personal magnetism.

These three men can entertain just by snapping their fingers. Since it was called the Frank Sinatra Show, I'll begin by saying the celebrated chairman of the board was in command most of the way. The exceptions came when his untamed buddy, Dean Martin, upstaged him with some unabashed mugging. Fortunately, the trio managed to avoid embarrassing, or ultra-inside ad libs.

(The Sinatra-Crosby exchange of Sept. 29 is still a vivid memory.) There was only one loud plug and that was earned by Martin who laid down and raised a show to the camera to display a chalked advertisement for his restaurant. The show had a comfortable pace, although it was slowed down by an uninspired dance featuring Mitzi Gaynor, the only lady guest on the show. And, treasure of treasures, it even had a sock finish. As Frank, Bing, and Dean imitated the Clayton, Jackson and Duran team of years ago, Jimmy Durante—in person—came on to join them. They all strutted off in triumph.

Another highlight was Sinatra pretending he was on a tight club floor in front of the band. There was no need to think about the staging or the camera. Frankie just stood there and put down the songs in his authoritative way and it was fine stuff.

Prior to that Frankie sat in with a platoon of children (real looking ones) to sing "Hi-De-De." That, too, was a knowing show business touch that came off well.

Producer-director Bill Colleran managed the cameras with precision, catching the stars in fine closeups to punctuate their moves. Art director Jim Trillip provided an uncluttered stage and came up with, of all things, a relay climb for Frank and co-company to recline on and dangle from. Guess the step ladder is through on TV.

The Channel Swim: Harry Salter, producer of Name That Tune, has been asked by CBS-TV and the sponsor to come up with a suitable new show for the Monday time slot. "Tune" was kaput by the network's new no-quiz policy. Salter told UPI the new show, tentatively called Fare The Music, would involve a panel guessing song titles, with George DeWitt as emcee. The CBS policy, besides banning big prizes, also prohibits contestants from appearing more than once.

Producer Walt Frazier reports he, too, hopes to sell a substitute for his cancelled show, The Big Payoff. Called Fun, Fashions and Music, Frazier would co-star Bert Parks and Bess Myerson. He said the show would offer "other non-quiz aspects" of payoff.

Dane Clark joins Dean Stockwell, Ingemar Johansson, Glenda Farrell and Frank McHugh in the Thursday, Nov. 19 CBS-TV adaptation of "The Killers". James Whitmore is cast as U.S. Grant, Melvyn Douglas as Mark Twain, and John Baragrey as Robert E. Lee for the Sunday, Feb. 21 NBC-TV drama in the Our American Heritage series. Carol Kelly, sister of Jack (Maverick) Kelly, portrays a stripper in the Nov. 2 episode of ABC-TV's Bourbon Street Beat.

Annie Hoover Circle Meets

The Annie Hoover Circle of the First Baptist Church met in the home of Mrs. Tom Smalley with nine members present. Mrs. W. H. Guter presented the program. During the social hour, the hostess served delicious refreshments. The members used this time for making place cards to be used in the hospital on trays.

DOROTHY DIX

Selfish Lad — Finds More Generous Boy

Dear Dorothy Dix:

My boy friend won't come to see me very often because he says my little sister is a nuisance. I'm crazy about the guy and we've been dating for five months. We don't go steady but he doesn't want me going with other fellows and he hasn't dated anyone else, either. Once upon a time he would call every day and come over weekends. Now he seldom calls and comes over for a few minutes once a week. All the girls in the neighborhood chase him but I want to keep him.—Elena

Dear Elena: I hope you don't propose exterminating little sister. She is only an excuse. The boy's head has been slightly turned by so much attention and right now he feels like a benevolent potentate bestowing his favors. Don't bow to his edict of "no boy friends." Since he dates you rarely, get out with other boys and have fun. You'll meet someone with a crew cut instead of wavy black hair, but with consideration and thoughtfulness instead of vanity. The boy of your dreams will put you first, not himself or any other girl. That's the one for you.

Dear Dorothy Dix:

Five years ago my husband deserted me and our new-born baby. With my parents' help, I've made a home for my child and am earning a good salary. Recently I met a wonderful young man who wants to marry me. He's never been to my house, and doesn't know about my little girl. Should I tell him now or break it to him later? I'm afraid if he finds out now he won't want anything to do with me.—Cathy

Dear Cathy: Tell him now by all means. Waiting will only add to your troubles. If the child would be a drawback to marriage, better face it now. If he loves you, he'll love your daughter. Dear Dorothy Dix: My parents own a home in a section of town that was once nice, but has become run down. My husband detests the neighborhood and refuses to visit with me. My parents aren't up to visiting us, so I have to see them alone. Everyone is hurt over this arrangement. What can we do about it?—Sallie

Dear Sallie: You're married to a constitutional snob and nothing you can do will change him. Only fate can do that by showing him someday that people are more important than places or things. Make your own visits so pleasant that no one will miss Mr. Big Heel.

Dear Dorothy Dix: I married a man with three children, and now have a small baby. My husband's first wife was an excellent housekeeper, which I am not. He's constantly complaining about the appearance of the house, and this is the only flaw in our marriage. His children look to me at once and we are a very happy family except for this one thing. I have anything I can do about it?—Ruby

Dear Ruby: Wife No. 1 at least was able to get used to children by degrees, you acquired them at one swallow. Some allowances should be made for you. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for my leaflet, "Better Home Management." It should give you some ideas for organizing your work. Tell hubby you're honestly trying, and would do a better job if he'd help instead of complaining.

Dear Dorothy Dix: We are identical twins, in love with the same boy. What he doesn't know is that there are two of us. He thinks he's dating the same girl all the time, but actually we take turns. Neither one of us will give in. How can we solve the problem?—Nona and Nina

Dear Girls: Two lovely bodies; one simple mind. Thirty years ago you might have sold the plot to a confession magazine. Today it's so banal that there's no chance of it even being revived on a late, late show movie. Try again.

Send your problem to DOROTHY DIX. Be sure to enclose a

To Study Way to Push Space Program

WASHINGTON, (AP) — President Eisenhower meets with top space advisers today in an attempt to solve a pressing national problem: How to push the U.S. space program into stronger competition with the Soviets.

Specifically, this is what is at issue:

1. What to do about the Army's Saturn program at Huntsville, Ala. the Saturn, a gigantic cluster of eight rocket engines, will have 1½ million pounds of thrust half again as much as anything the Soviets have developed.

2. What to do about the Army Ballistics Missile Agency at Huntsville, the crack team of rocket experts headed by Dr. Wernher von Braun.

The Saturn program has been suffering from malnutrition. Word has come down that its funds have been cut from 135 million dollars to 70 million. Maj. Gen. John B. Medaris, who has headed this effort, has just resigned, although he says his resignation was not a protest action.

The problem is that Saturn has no immediate and direct military application. Its huge thrust is five times more than is needed to fling atomic warheads between continents. Its value is in the exploration of space.

Medaris, in a New York speech Tuesday night, said the Saturn program "is our best present bid for parity with the Soviets in this field."

"I am personally convinced," he said, "that we cannot afford not to compete with whatever it takes to win. I do not believe that we are prepared to abandon any part of the universe to the undisputed domination of communism."

Eisenhower scheduled his high powered advisers' meeting just before leaving for five or six days of golf at Augusta, Ga.

Summoned to the White House were Dr. T. Keith Glennan, civilian space administrator; Dr. George Kistiakowsky, the President's science advisor; Secretary of Defense Neil H. McElroy and his deputy, Thomas S. Gates; Dr. Herbert York, the Pentagon's director of engineering and research, and Acting Budget Director Elmer Staats.

The presence of the budget official could mean Eisenhower is leaning toward the idea of placing Saturn under the civilian agency, the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

Top Pentagon officials, including McElroy, now favor this stamped, self-addressed envelope, and address her care of this newspaper.

(cleared by The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

course. Von Braun also spoke out on the problem Tuesday, saying "instead of wasting time and energy in ponderous re-appraisals and re-examinations, we ought to pitch in to get the show on the road and get it into space."

Von Braun said he had no intention of resigning from his key job as head of the Huntsville scientific team even if the project was shifted from the Army to NASA. But he said he and his scientists need a "pleasant atmosphere" to work in.

Picks Old Miss, LSU, Texas to Win Saturday

By HAROLD CLAASSEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Why did they increase the odds between the goal posts in college football? Well, the reason is that certain wide-beamed forecasts should be booted out of the end zone because they were unable to predict that Ohio State would handle Purdue and that Pittsburgh would be handled by West Virginia last weekend.

Sailing between the posts with the greatest of ease, here are this week's winners, with the understanding that the forecasts are no better than a week end age when the average was 7.00 on 34 winners in 48 decisions.

Louisiana State over Florida: The Bayou Bengals rarely do more than they have to, but the formula seems to work. So the pick is Billy Cannon 1-2, action.

Northern Iowa over Notre Dame: One of these days this Notre Dame team will jell and make everyone look silly—including the foe on the field. But not this weekend.

Texas over Rice: This is pure suicide. But one must stay with that Texas speed in the line and Rene Ramirez.

Mississippi over Arkansas: Our Memphis operator says these two teams are as good as any in the country, but that Bobby Dranklin makes the Rebels the choice.

Southern California over Stanford: The Trojan blockers hit like a wooden horse.

Syracuse over West Virginia:

State Duck Population Is Normal

By JOHN R. STARR

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Arkansas Game and Fish Commission cautiously states that the Arkansas duck population is normal for this time of year.

"We don't want to become involved in a controversy between the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service and Ducks Unlimited," said Game and Fish Director Nelson Cox. "They aren't exactly together on their figures."

The wildlife service, estimating a drastic reduction in duck population because of poor breeding conditions in Canada, slashed 30 days from this year's hunting season. Ducks Unlimited, on the other hand, gives a guardedly optimistic estimate of duck population.

"We'll start making our own surveys shortly before the seasons open," said Cox. "We don't want to estimate duck population until we've checked ourselves."

The season starts at noon Nov. 30 and ends at sunset Jan. 8, 40 days. It was Nov. 3-Jun. 15 last year.

As an additional conservation measure, the wildlife service cut hunting hours by 30 minutes per day. Eliminated was the 30 minutes before sunrise. The period runs from sunrise to sunset.

"A lot of hunters feel that 30 minutes was the best time of the day," said Cox. "The elimination definitely will save a lot of ducks."

The Arkansas commission fought the decision to shorten the hunting season. "We wanted the normal 70 days with shooting permitted only half of each day," Cox said. "But we didn't get anywhere with that proposal."

Cox said water conditions over the state are excellent this year.

The Mountaineers' season ended with that victory over Pittsburgh. Auburn over Miami: With relative ease.

Penn State over Illinois: Only because the Big Ten team is concentrating on its conference problems.

Georgia Tech over Tulane: Two surprise teams. Tech surprised by being better than expected. Tulane by being below par.

Oregon over Washington: Because the Webfoots handled the Air Force with such ease.

Wisconsin over Ohio State: Dale Hackbart has the benefit of the home crowd in stopping the Buckeyes.

Purdue over Iowa: But it will be close.

Texas Christian over Pittsburgh: The only explanation seems to be that the steel strike seems to trouble the Panthers.

Clemson over the South Carolina: The last of these Thursday afternoon state fair tea-parties winds up as a Clemson triumph.

Yale over Colgate: The Bulldogs haven't been scored upon and Colgate hasn't won this season.

Oklahoma over Kansas: Hardly a man is now alive who remembers that famous day and year when Oklahoma lost a Big Eight game.

Broyles Declares Mooty Should Be All-American

DAYTTEVILLE, Ark. (AP)—

Halfback Jim Mooty after twice leaving the Arkansas Razorback football team, has become a candidate for All-American honors. And his loudest booster is his coach, Frank Broyles.

"I don't know what criteria they use for judging All-American football players," Broyles said after his team's tough workout yesterday in preparation for the Mississippi game Saturday. "But Jim Mooty has done everything you could ask of any player."

Mooty, a 105-pound seahawk who loses 10 pounds per game but gains it back during the week, was named All-Southwest Conference last year as a junior. That was after leaving the team for two games, then asking to return and being unanimously voted back by his teammates.

Last spring, doctors told him he would have to quit football because of recurring headaches and dizzy spells, but treatment and new examinations this fall cleared him for combat.

Since then he's been the backbone of a Razorback team that has won four games and lost one to third-ranked Texas.

Mooty ranks second in the Southwest Conference in rushing yardage. He has gained 297 yards in 34 tries, an average of 5.5 yards per carry. He ranks 50 yards behind Texas Christian's great fullback, Jack Spikes.

"But he's been vital to our entire game," Broyles said, "as a tremendous runner, a tough blocker, and a great defender. There has been absolutely nothing lacking."

Mooty averaged 5.5 yards per try last year. Among his credits no water.

The Game and Fish Commission has been taking steps in artificial flooding acreage in some state-owned hunting preserves.

This year, for example, there will be about 7,600 artificially flooded acres in the Bayou Meto public shooting grounds and another 6,000 acres in the Dagmar area of Monroe County.

Another service for hunters will be a weekly television show pinpointing duck concentrations and showing movies of waterfowl movements. The five-minute film show will be used by eight or nine television stations. Cox said the commission keeps track of the ducks with an airplane which carries department personnel over reservoirs, lakes and streams while the ducks are counted.

"It's a pretty accurate method," Cox said. "In an estimate of 10,000 ducks, our man won't be more than 100 off."

But until an actual count is made, Cox will venture no forecast on duck season, except to say, "The population appears good and water conditions are excellent right now."

Fort Smith Retains Top Spot in State

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Fort Smith's Grizzlies retained top spot among Arkansas high school football teams this week and Forest City moved for the first time into the top classification in Class AA.

Fort Smith got eight of nine first place votes in the weekly poll conducted by the Arkansas Sportswriters Assn. Forest City got the only other first place vote.

The Mustangs, ranked second in Class AA in the preceding polls, edged out Little Rock Catholic to the only point for Class AA honors.

Forest City stands eighth in the state behind seven Big Nine Conference teams. Catholic High is ninth in the state.

Little Rock Central, 7-0 winner over Texarkana last week, retained second place in the poll and El Dorado, 21-6 victor over Smackover, retained third place.

Forest City won its sixth straight game last week, 33-0 over Newport. The Mustangs have allowed only two touchdowns to six opponents and their closest game was a 20-6 victory over Conway in the opener.

Fort Smith battered Blytheville last week 35-0 to remain the Big Nine favorite with only one loss in six games.

Little Rock Hall, 3-0 upset victor over Pine Bluff last week, rose to fourth place in this week's poll, above fifth-place Pine Bluff. Then come North Little Rock and Texarkana.

Only one point separate Central and El Dorado in their fight for second place in the state rankings. And one point separate Texarkana and North Little Rock in their fight for sixth place. Another point separates Forest City and Catholic High. The Catholics are 5-1.

Forest City is a favorite in Region 2AA and Catholic High is almost certainly the 3AA titlist. Fordyce remained the top Class A team with an 11th place state ranking. Walnut Ridge is second.

were a 100-yard kickoff return for a touchdown against Hardin-Simmons. Texas Coach Darrell Royal last year called him "the most dangerous runner in the Southwest Conference."

And he wants to play professional football. "I don't think I'm too small," he says. "Maybe I could play defense or kick or something." The Calgary club in the Canadian League already has drafted him.

Mooty is probably best known in Arkansas ranks for his team leadership and his quick starting. Seeing him work an end sweep is like watching the other 21 men on the field run in slow motion.

Broyles was asked if he had any qualms about attacking the All-American label to Mooty so early in the season.

"Ordinarily I might be," the smooth-spoken coach said. "But I believe this man deserves the recognition as much as any All-American I've ever seen. And he knows what his responsibilities are."

News Briefs

PINE BLUFF, Ark. (AP)—The city council last night proposed a millage reduction of 1 mill to be vote out in the November general election.

The proposal would cut the current millage rate from 9 1/2 to 8 1/2 mills. The reduction would be on categories other than the general tax fund.

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The state Public Service Commission has approved contracts under which two gas companies will provide natural gas to 18 Arkansas industries.

Seventeen contracts are between Arkansas Louisiana Gas Co. and industrial users. All of these are 15-year contracts.

The other contract calls for Arkansas Western Gas Co. of Fayetteville to supply gas to the Eureka Brick and Tile Co. of Clarksville.
